EY C. TOAER WULF. Mine horse is sloped, and I'm avraid

He bas been daken, or stolen, or strayed; Mine pig plack horse, that looks so sphry, 'Pout fourieen oder twelve hands high, He has been got shust four feets blac -Two legs pefore and two pelind-Pe shure you keeps all dis in mind.

He's plack all over, dat is true, All but his face, and dat is plack too; He drots and conters, valks and paces, And out valks Pelzebub in draces; And when he g llops in de street. He valks upon his legs and feet, Von leg goes down and den de oder, And always follows you anoder: He has two cars stuck 'pon his head, Bote of dem's neder vlute or red. But but's alike-shust von vou see, Jeb placker den den der pe; He's got two eyes dut looks von vay. Only he lost one loder day: And you you vant to take a ride Shump on his pack on toder side, And it is shust as guenel drue, De eve vots plind vill not see von. His tail's pelind him, long and shleek, Only I cut him off last yeek. And derefore 'lis not any more. As half so long as vus pefore. He cocks his ear and looks so gay, And vill not start and run avay, But ven he starts and makes you sgring, And shumps about like every ding; He rides about init shaiz and cart, I never see such limite for schmart: And sometimes he goes on de road, Milout nopody for his load, But pag of corp. and take de track,

Mine horse is not so very old Not half so young as ven he's foalded; And ven he gallup, rear or shump. His head come all before him plump : And dee his dail goes all behind, But sometimes, when he takes a mind, Gets mad and corns all round, he sure, Vy den his tail goes all pefore.

Mit little pay upon his pack.

Whoever vill mine plack horse got, Shall pay ten dollars on the sphot; And if he pring de tief alive, Vy, den he pays me twenty-five.

The books and pictured cards distributed were about 200 in number. They contained nothing whatever of a setarian or objectionable character. They were calculated to amuse and instruct those who received them-nothing more. They could do no possible harm, even if tie little creatures who received them were capable of comprehending any theological dornas whatever, or could know whether they were theretical? or

Of the 200 taken, only 26 were returned to the superintendent, and upon an investigation by the proper authorities these tenchers were informed that such conduct mult not be repeat.

The Register very truthfully remarks that liberal privileges are allowed to Romanists, in accordance with the spirit of religious tolerance which prevails in this Republic, and this privilege cannot be abused with impunity.

We know that the whole Roman Cathohe Church cannot be held accountable for the outrageous conduct of a few bigoted mendiers, but it is a very significant fact that the Church is never known to punish or even reprimand these weak or criminal brethren.

THE PUBLIC LANDS

A restless anxiety has been exhibited of late years, on the part of our national legislators, to get rid of the public lands. We regard this as similar to the disposition of an improvident heir, who, having come into the possession of a large portion by the death of a relative, makes haste to squander it by every means he can imagine. These lands are the patri- Covington came off on Saturday last. mony of the present generation-inherit- The following gentlemen were chosen to ed from their valiant and thrifty ances- fill the most important offices: ters, who won them from the Briton, the Spaniard, the Frenchman, and the Indian, with their true swords, and their hard earned money. Many seem to imagine that these lands have cost the American people nothing; and, therefore, contend that we shall throw them open, to be seized by whomsoever may choose to take possession of them .-They are even for inviting the descendants of the very men against whom our fore fathers fought to gain them-the British and the Hessians-to come and take them for nothing.

This policy of throwing away the public lands, has a show of benevolence and charity, and many are entrapped into its support by these specious appearances. But when calmly and rationally viewed, nothing can appear more unwise, improvident, or impolitic.

Patterson, X. Y., 20th 1951.

Messes, A. B. & B. Sands: Gent enner - Having witnessed the most bench fall educes from the use of your Sarsaptrila, it gives one pleasure to send you the following statement in regard to ony son. In the spring of 1848 he took a severe cold, and after civil weeks of severe sufering the disease settled in his filt leg and foot, which soon will et to the utmost. The swelling was laured by his possestim, and its hard anost projectly, after that no less than eleven uteer formed on the grand foot at once. We had five different physomacs, but none reneved him in u.b.; and the last winter bound him as ecoaciated and tow that he was unable to leave fits ed, suffering the most much: and the lost winter found limit so concented and it without he was unable to leave first ed. suffering the most exert time pair. I furing this time the brone had become so much affected but piece after piece came in t. of which he has now more than twenty live preserved in a bottle, varying from one half to one and a half inches in length,—we had given up all hopes of his ecovery, but at this time we we were induced to try your sarsaparilla, and with its six his health and appetite began immediately from rove, indicate a perfect cure.

With gratifulde, I remain truly yours,

If REUS BALLARD.
